Heating Safety

Portable space heaters need space:

- A qualified technician should do the installing.
- Vent to the exterior of the building away from obstructions, including bushes and snow drifts.
- Children must be supervised around heaters. Use physical non-combustible barriers to keep small children away.
- Never use an oven as a space heater.
- For portable electric space heaters:
 - Plug into a proper outlet, not an extension cord.
 - Inspect the unit for signs of unusual wear.
 - Unplug unit when leaving room or going to bed.
- Space heaters should be kept 3 feet away from combustible material.
- Make sure to have a working smoke detector and carbon monoxide detector on every floor. Call the Seekonk Fire Department at 508-336-8510 Ext. 0 for questions about placement.

Wood burning stoves and fireplaces:

Use dry, seasoned wood, not artificial logs. Use paper and kindling to start a fire. Liquid fuels are very dangerous. Dispose of ashes in a metal container with lid, away from the house, garage and porch. Have the chimney professionally cleaned once a year. Wood/coal burning stoves and fireplaces should be out when you're asleep.

Fuel Assistance Help

Q. Will there be help to pay fuel bills this winter?

A. Yes. Rising energy prices have prompted concerns among town residents about the cost of heating their homes this winter. The state will offer fuel assistance to households with limited income through Citizens for Citizens Fuel Assistance Program.

Income Guidelines and Family Size

The amount for fuel assistance this season has not yet been set. The state uses a formula that gives the lowest income households with the highest fuel costs the most benefits. The fuel assistance received through Citizens for Citizens will likely not cover your entire heating costs this winter. Citizens for Citizens Income Guidelines by family size are:

Number of Household Members	Maximum Income
1	$33,126
2	$43,319
3	$53,511
4	$63,704

This application period for fuel assistance grants is November 1, 2015 to April 30, 2016. There is no priority given to seniors or disabled people, so be sure to apply for fuel aid early in the heating season. Don't wait until your last delivery!

Eligibility

Homeowners are eligible for the program, as well as renters. A renter who pays their own heat directly is eligible for fuel assistance. A person whose heat is included in the rent may also qualify. If you are not sure if you qualify, contact the program and ask how your situation will be handled.

The fuel program also has a “fast track” application process for people who are experience a heating crisis, such as utility shut off notice or an empty oil tank. A fuel crisis also includes a person with no heat, for any reason, or someone facing the imminent loss of heat.

If you are eligible for the fuel program, Citizens for Citizens will pay for fuel dealer. This fuel assistance program, known as the “Low Income Home Energy Assistance Program (LIHEAP), will cover payments for oil, propane, wood or coal, as well as natural gas and electric utilities.
